- 375 ENGLISH STAINED GLASS, by Herbert Read, of the Victoria and Albert Museum. 4to., original cloth, illustrations in colour, NEW, £2 12s 6d (pub. £5 5s) 1926
The text aims, in the first place, at establishing the relationship of English Stained Glass to the main stream of European Art. No work on the subject exists which provides exact colour reproductions or an adequate series of photographic illustrations; special care has therefore been given to this want. The main body of the text is followed by a survey of the extant Stained Glass in England, in which an attempt is made to provide a guide to all the more important examples.
- 377 EPICURUS'S MORALS, collected partly out of his own Greek Text, in Diogenes Laertius, and partly out of the Rhapsodies of Marcus Antonius, Plutarch, Cicero and Seneca, and faithfully Englished [by Walter Charleton, M.D.]. Sm. 4to., original calf, rebounded, £2

- 557 MANUSCRIPT VOLUME OF SONGS AND LYRICS. Some of the poems are written before 1650 and some in a different hand as late as 1720. Some of the Lyrics are by Shakespeare, Wither, Rochester and Herrick. Many songs and poems we have not been able to identify. These are all written in an early hand round about 1650. Amongst the later poems are two dialect pieces, "A Lancashire Tale," printed with differences by J. Harland in "Lancashire Ballads"; and "A Yorkshire Dialogue" differing considerably in readings from the form as published by Skeat in his "Specimens of English Dialects," English Dialect Society, 1896, p. 149. The Clavis trio is very different. Many of the early poems we have been able to identify differ from the printed versions. There is also a very curious collection of MSS. Epigrams, and also a remarkable Collection of Epitaphs. A very interesting vol., sm. 4to., original old calf, £5
